

This half term we will be listening and learning all about voices from the past.

English: We are continuing to explore a range of texts for our guided and independent comprehensions. As we have just finished our class novel, Where the World Turns Wild, we have begun writing a narrative all about a boy escaping from a domed city. We will also be writing a persuasive trip advert and an informal holiday advert.

In History we will be finding out about the lives of the people of the Kingdom of Benin.

Science: In science we will be exploring light and famous scientists Thomas Edison and Edith Clarke.

Maths: Our maths learning this half term will involve new topics including shapes and quadrants.

PE: This half term we will be outside as much as possible and furthering our cricket skills.

RE: In RE we will be exploring the question 'What matters most to Christians and Humanists?'

This term I have made some changes to our PE slots. Both PE sessions will now take place on a Thursday, so children no longer need to come in their kits on a Monday.

I can't stress enough how important it is that children are practising their times tables and completing their homework every week. It will really benefit them both in SATs and in their transition to secondary schools.

Please encourage your child to read at home. Reading for 20 minutes a day exposes children to 1.2 million words over a year, and supports all areas of children's learning.

I will be setting the spelling lists for the children on Sunday mornings and they expire just before school on Fridays. It is an expectation that your children accesses Spelling Shed at least twice a week, there are lots of fun interactive games for them to be having a go at that will also help boost their writing capabilities.
